Participating in the Self Assessment Process

Last year, the Rehabilitative Care Alliance (RCA) released new best practice frameworks for patients with hip fractures and primary hip and knee replacements.

The frameworks support implementation of QBPs with detailed best practices for rehabilitative care across all care settings: pre-operative (TJR), bedded, ambulatory, in-home and long-term care (hip).

The RCA is inviting all health service providers and contracted home and community care providers who provide rehabilitative services to participate in a self-assessment process to see how well the care they provide aligns with the frameworks.

It is a simple process that requires only one meeting and will provide you with useful feedback to guide quality improvement in your program. This brief FAQ document provides information about the frameworks and the self-assessment process. More detailed instructions are included in the self-assessment tool.

The RCA will also be analyzing data across organizations to identify quality improvement priorities for each LHIN, as well as system level changes needed to support quality improvement across the province. Specific organizations will not be identified in this analysis.

Please contact Charissa Levy, RCA Executive Director, Charissa.Levy@uhn.ca, by February 9, 2018 to confirm your participation.

Your organization/program will need to complete the self-assessment and submit it to the RCA by May 4, 2018. The RCA will support you through this process.
